Thank goodness we got Obama's economy back! I was getting worried that Trump's economy was going to topple the Dow. But in all seriousness, we can't let orange man get his small hands on the stock codes. I predict we end sideways or dropping. No major gains today.

Yes and pretty heavily too. I'm expecting a bloodbath today.

We are about to see another popping off of the cases in a few days since it's reached the US, Europe, and the other countries as well. So these threads may be flooded again by either newfags or an abundance of shills doing crowd control. Didn't the DOW ended up in the red yesterday even though the Feds intervened?

The Dow Jones closed down 750 points today... Your markets are collapsing.

Pro-Trump people are not heeding any precautions, they're being told that it's just a flu and it's being used as an election scare to stop Trump.

This will cause much larger conservative deaths than Democrat deaths. There are memes all over Facebook telling people to go out and buy to counter the market retraction, there are conservative facebook groups that are actively pushing the meme that every election year there's a virus.

Dow drops 800 despite historic fed rate cut. They can't fix it. The bear trap/dead cat bounce is done. Watch it break below 25000 and trigger a massive sell-off.

HAPPENING. LET THE BODIES HIT THE FLOOR.
